Andrew Davis Named North Carolina Marketing Representative for Jackson Sumner & Associates

Boone, NC - Jackson Sumner & Associates (JSA) announced the appointment of Andrew Davis as the North Carolina Marketing Representative for the company.

Davis is a native of Belmont, NC who majored in Risk Management & Insurance at Appalachian State University. He started with JSA in 2017 on the company's Transportation Team as an Assistant Underwriter and later moved to the P&C Team as a Renewal Underwriter.

"Andrew's unique experience in Underwriting for both Transportation and P&C risks gives him a strong foundation for marketing our capabilities and appetites," stated JSA Director of Marketing, Brantley Saunders. "Because of this underwriting knowledge, along with his familiarity with the JSA culture and his high-energy outgoing personality, we think the agencies in his territory are going to feel the added value he brings instantly."

Davis currently serves on the IIANC iLead Committee, and on the Board of Directors for Appalachian Wesley Foundation and Carolina Cross Connection.

Davis will report directly to Saunders and his territory will include most of North Carolina with a few key locations in South Carolina. Davis will be based out of Durham, NC.
